Introduction

Publicising your groups, promoting events or raising awareness of your organisation’s commitment to LGBT equality doesn’t have to be expensive, time-consuming or difficult to achieve. In many cases, it’s about making existing publications more inclusive or using ideas you’ve seen elsewhere.

The resources in this publicity booklet have been used by the Equality Network, LGBT Youth Scotland, Stonewall Scotland and others to promote campaigns, events and initiatives across Scotland.

You can contact us about any of our publications and we’d be happy to let you know about how you can get some copies. We can also advise on inclusive publications, including proof-reading and information about diverse image banks. You can find our contact details in the Introduction booklet.
WE KNOW YOU'RE OUT THERE

EVERYONE'S DIFFERENT

We're always trying to grow our service to suit your needs. It's important we improve for ALL of you and sometimes your sexual orientation or gender identity will be relevant to how we can help. Even if it isn't, we want everyone to be comfortable knowing we respect and support diversity. If it matters to you, it matters to us.

THA CUID DE DHAOINE GAY. GABHRIS!
Some phobias make sense. Don’t.

Ophidiophobia – an irrational fear of snakes. Like many phobias it is an understandable condition where the individual dislikes something scary.

Homophobia is different. Many lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender young people experience homophobic bullying at school. Few report it to school staff.

Homophobia can be challenged by taking control and being informed: whoever you are, visit our forum to get advice and information and speak with other teachers about the issues that matter.

SOME PEOPLE HATE SPIDERS

Arachnophobia – an irrational fear of spiders. Like many phobias it is an understandable condition where the individual dislikes something scary.

Homophobia is different. Why would you make fun of or dislike someone just because they fancy different people than you?

Homophobia can be challenged by taking control and being informed: whoever you are, visit our forum to get advice and information and speak with other young people about the issues that matter.

YOUR VIEW COUNTS!

LGBT Youth Scotland, in partnership with East Ayrshire Council, would like to engage young people in a survey that will let us know what young people currently understand about being lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) and to find out how we can better support LGBT young people!

We know it can be hard for some young people who grow up feeling different, but we also know that having the opportunity to be themselves and not be judged can feel amazing.

LGBT Youth Scotland works with LGBT young people age 13-25 making a huge difference to their lives. You can help too.

To complete the survey go to: www.lgbtyouth.org.uk/east-ayrshire.htm
